Inspector General in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Benin

2011 cohort – PhD in Management at Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne

'The Eiffel scholarship was an asset and a driving force for my career thanks to the programme's rigorous, dynamic support. For me, the Eiffel programme is a rich, efficient and pragmatic initiative. It's the perfect tool for research-based training.'

Désiré Yasso – Benin

Director of Internal Audit, Groupe BPCE, Vietnam

2003 cohort – PhD in Economics at Université de Bordeaux

'The scholarship allowed me to gain in-depth knowledge in economics and finance, develop my analytical skills and grow in an international environment. It was much easier to gain employment with my PhD. My mastery of French allows me to communicate easily, both at work with my French colleagues and in my personal life. France has become my second home!'

Do Thi Thanh Nga – Vietnam

Legal Counsel, France

2015 cohort – Master's in International Business Law at Université de Bourgogne

'Thanks to the Eiffel programme, I was able to find my place in France on a professional and personal level.

After the Eiffel scholarship programme, I continued my studies in France. Today, I am a legal counsel in a company in Paris.'

FRANCE EXCELLENCE EIFFEL

Empowering students with knowledge for the future

EIFFEL PROGRAMME

Gustave Eiffel was a major French engineer and industrialist who gave his name to the most emblematic monument in Paris.

He is the embodiment of French excellence.

Developed and financed by the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs and managed by Campus France, the Eiffel scholarship programme is a source of success, prestige, knowledge and innovation.
It aims to develop the attractiveness of French higher education and research institutions and assist talented international students in pursuing their studies in France.
Recipients of the scholarship are pre-selected by their institution and awarded by a jury of experts.

Timeline

- Online call for applications: end of September
- Deadline for institutions to send applications to Campus France: 1st week of January
- Publication of results: March

A scholarship programme which will:

- Spread French excellence
- Attract talent
- Assist international students
- Produce the leaders of tomorrow

Important notice

The cooperation and cultural action network of French diplomatic missions can assist institutions in identifying and selecting the best students in their host countries.

The Campus France offices can provide information to students on training programmes in France and help them outline their educational goals.

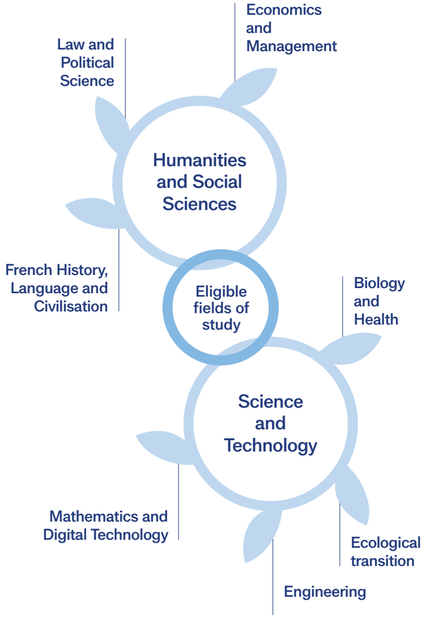

Note

Tuition fees are not covered by the Eiffel programme.

Students who are recipients of a French government scholarship are exempt from paying.

METICULOUS SELECTION OF EIFFEL PROGRAMME RECIPIENTS

Offering French excellence to international students.

Allowing institutions to recruit the best international students.

Guaranteeing excellence of the programme thanks to a selection commission composed of seven panels of experts (one per field of study).

Providing funding to students throughout the duration of their studies.

Selection criteria

Candidate's track record of excellence.

The institution's reputation abroad and its international student policy.

Policy of cooperation and partnership with the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Eligibility criteria

The programme is reserved for international students. Candidates with dual nationality, one of which is French, are not eligible.
Only programmes that confer a nationally accredited degree are allowed.
French programmes located abroad will not be accepted. Programmes part of an apprenticeship contract are ineligible (contrat d'apprentissage, contrat de professionnalisation).

Applications

Host French institutions commit to register awardees in the programme for which they were selected.

Graduate level

- Candidates currently studying in France are ineligible.
- Graduate level programmes, including engineering diplomas, are eligible.

Note: French programmes located abroad will not be accepted. Programmes part of an apprenticeship contract are ineligible (contrat d'apprentissage, contrat de professionnalisation).

Post-graduate level

- Students currently studying abroad are a priority over those who currently reside in France.
- The award of a 36-month scholarship is reserved for first-year PhD students registering for the first time in France.

Note: Students who are currently recipients of a French government scholarship are not eligible. However, institutions may present PhD applications for candidates who have benefitted from graduate-level scholarships in the past.

Head of the EU4DUAL European Alliance for ESTIA

2014 cohort – Master's in Politics and Development in Africa and the Global South at Sciences Po Bordeaux

'The Eiffel scholarship allowed me to realise my dream of studying in France. I now work in an engineering school where I am in charge of creating new international cooperation projects. I strongly believe that education is a vector for change. I chose France for my studies because of its international reputation. Studying in France allowed me to do internships where I could put what I learned in class into practice.'
